Aleppo is waiting for you!

Thanks to your help many works started in 2018 in the Catholic community in Aleppo headed by our friend the Archbishop Jeanbart giving hope and confidence to all people in it.

Aleppo is waiting for you!

The Archbishop wrote us that the recovery of a normal social life has started around the restored Cathedral and thanks to the Christian initiative, there is a new Supply Center. "The Supply Center serves more than 120 families each day and employs 15 permanent staff. The Day-Care Medical Center now offers services in 11 different specializations, not counting our much appreciated dental care clinic; each week, hundreds of people receive our patient care.

Right now, 186 newborn babies are in the program of the diocese by which the parents receive financial help until the child is 4 years old."

There is so much still to be done, but Providence never forget.

Gradually, the Cathedral comes back to life and evidences of violence and bombings are deleted. We are away from the original splendor, but the team of artisans, builders and engineers are working hard and know that we will not leave them alone. There is much work to be done but pictures show many progresses in the restoration and restructuring works of the Cathedral in Aleppo. It is an important point for many Christian people in this area, probably the most tormented in Syria.
