

NOVAE EPISTULAE

With a small gesture we can do great things

Dear friends,

Gradually, step by step life has started again in Aleppo.

Despite bombs, threats and air raids, a little hope is growing. In these last months of war, the cathedral and the Archbishop's residence have been hit four times, 70 missiles and mortar attacks damaged them seriously.

SUPPORT AND DONATE

Archbishop Jeanbart reminded us all of these facts in his Easter letter:

*“ Now, with the freeing of Aleppo, we see signs of hope rising on the horizon.

Better security and the reopening of public services give some tranquility to our faithful.

There is now water and electricity in the homes, a great comfort to the citizens.

Slowly, economic life has begun and the most valiant are finding work.

Evidently we are very happy to see the young people who have been prepared in our professional schools find work.

“To Build to Stay”, our association for local development has been able to renovate 800 apartments and some 50 workshops and stores which had been damaged by rockets. “

Let's make a difference!

SUPPORT AND DONATE

Life in the Christian community and in the Cathedral starts again, they are restoring the building in and outside. The Archbishop himself explains how “every day hope is growing more and more and in Easter time our priests distributed Holy Communion to 1500 faithful.”

A small gesture is useful. A small gift can change the course of history.

You can do great things.

DONATE NOW

Thank you for your help, prayers and attention !
