

NOVAE EPISTULAE

"Let us not loose heart, God is with us!"

Dear friend and supporter,

In these last weeks, after is commitment during the election of the new Melkite Catholic patriarch, Archbishop in Aleppo Jean Jeanbart wrote a new letter to all the Catholic faithful of the city and the dioceses.

A letter that touches people's heart and encourage us to continue in our support action because it is important not to forget the tragic situation of his people and city, as national and international mass media has already done.

A letter that encourage me and you not to lose hope, we must keep praying because Christian courage does not default, even in a great desolation.

Let us not leave Christian people in Aleppo and Mons. Jeanbart alone!

Our friend and Archbishop in Aleppo wrote this:

"Now that I am back, I am happy to be here with you again. I am full of joy, energy and enthusiasm to drive the battle that is waiting us. We fight to build up again what has been destroyed in this war: our houses, people who have fled around the world terrified.

This region has been so afflicted and now is waiting for our help to have back its honor, its dignity and its freedom. As for me, dear friends, I am determined than ever to work hard in order to make the image of our precious city better; Aleppo, the pearl in the East and in the West, cradle of civilization and cultures.

I am determined than ever to stand side by side with young people who want to rebuild what has been destroyed and to regain what has been lost. Aleppo has been looted and vandalized by our enemy in an unacceptable and disgraceful way. We will rebuild with great pride and dignity.”

Energy, enthusiasm, great and proud battle, dignity, freedom to rebuilt what has been destroyed and seems lost.

Can we remain indifferent to all of it?

I cannot know this battle, this commitment and remain indifferent.

Help us and together we will help them!

Is it possible to rebuild a city, a community after all that is happened in Aleppo? The Archbishop himself says yes:

“It will be perfectly possible the day when we will decide to take the initiative and join forces to work together honestly, with dedication and loyalty.

This will be the day when we will refuse to give false speeches and will consider honesty and integrity as the basis of our work. It will be possible, if you agree to get rid of desperation, listlessness and of the temptation to give in.

There are many signs that tell us hope is big and a success is possible, it is just waiting our strong decision. In these last years we demonstrated to be able to face obstacles and problems.

God is with us. Dear brothers, we keep going without fear toward the future: it belongs to us.”

(Aleppo, 2nd July 2017 , S.E. Youhanna Jean Jeanbart, Archbishop in Aleppo)

Future belongs to us all, as we are people of God.

Decide now to “join forces and work together” in order to help, with prayers and actions, people in Aleppo and their Archbishop and our friend Mons. Jean Jeanbart!

Help us and together we will help them!
