2018

Dear friends,

Two years ago we published the first Independent Index on freedom of education (FEI) thanks to the work of many experts and the collaboration with OI DEL in Geneva. FEI is still today the most updated and useful tool that help evaluating the quality and the degree of freedom of education in every country of the world. You can download a copy of the summary in our website: <https://www.novaeterrae.eu/en/publication-list/81-reports/1395-global-index-on-freedom-of-education-2018.html>

In these last week there has been exciting news: we have promoted with OI DEL a new analysis of FEI and other international documents (on democracy, development, good government, etc.) in order to evaluate how freedom of education can develop a good government and social creativity in country of the world.

Well, not only there is a strong relation between a good and free education and democracy values, but also freedom of education is often an important element in the cultural and social development of the world.

There is a general support to freedom of education in different ways and amounts by countries of the world, but at the same time only 6% of these countries support the full cost of the school choice. There are too many families that personally pay to be free to choose what kind of education give to their children. There is a big relation between the development of democracy and freedom of education, in particular in Asia, Latin America and Caribbean countries.

Social cohesion is supported and reinforced too by the freedom of education in every country.

Let's make a difference!

The good news is that this update confirms that our Global Index on Freedom of education is a good work in order to give all parents and schools more freedom and consequently more development to the country where they live.

The research can be viewed on our web site only in French.
